Hi,
Any news from Simon?
Heather is prompting me to send the letter to my MP.
Do we agree that this is a good idea ? If so I will send your draft.
Would you like to amend the 3rd paragraph from the end to say that Barclays "refuse to provide a formal redemption statement" rather than "a mortgage redemption figure" given that they have indicated a figure owed since you wrote the draft ?
Heather seems to think the letter needs a paragraph near the beginning broadcasting all of Ziad's misdemeanours as in my draft. Do you think we should include details of the UK Arrest Warrant and abandon de famille.

Good. I do think that you need to put a paragraph in at the beginning (copy and paste from the other letter) which states the issues that Ziad is facing...corruption, money laundering, arms sales etc. It doesn't come through clearly enough

ALL PARTY PARLIAMENTARY GROUP on FAIR BUSINESS BANKING

An All Party Parliamentary Group (APPG) is an interest group that occupies a strategic and effective position within Parliament. It is cross-party, with a minimum number of parliamentarians from the Government and the official opposition, and cross-house, made up of both peers and MPs. The APPG on Fair Business Banking is a platform through which businesses, professionals and trade bodies can discuss issues regarding commercial banking and its role in the life cycle of a business, and through which parliamentarians can access information on banking, finance and related issues, including business rescue and insolvency, on behalf of constituents. As a cross-party group, the APPG is an effective vehicle to effect meaningful change via the Parliamentary system. The Group's status is that of an APPG is bound by the rules set out by The Office of the Parliamentary Commissioner for Standards. It does not have charitable status, or official status in the House, nor is it funded by Parliament. It relies wholly on the participation and contribution of parliamentarians, industry members and stakeholders committed to creating a strong platform for business in the UK to thrive. The APPG is co-ordinated and administered via the APPG on Fair Business Banking Secretariat.
